The Deal Pipeline (subscription required) published a story about Olshan client Julien Balkany of Nanes Balkany Partners LP. The article focuses on Balkany's rare talent as an activist investor, with a strong background in both politics and oil and gas. Balkany is represented by activist practice head Steve Wolosky, who has worked with Balkany on a number of campaigns, including Toreador, as mentioned in the article, and is quoted: "I love working with people like Julien who do their homework and have an unusual ability to find unique undervalued situations."
